

Truck and Trailer Pricing Software

Updated: September 12, 2022

Dear Assessor,

We have recently posted updated versions of the two programs.

There are no changes to basic functionality. However, they introduce some new reports: You can now print depreciation schedules from both programs, and in the trailer program you can print the price charts and a list of supported trailer types. Additionally, the trailer program has a new column showing the ratio of light weight to gross weight as a percentage.

The Trailer and Incomplete Truck programs are available for download at <http://www.software-production.com/clients/caao/> .

You will want to review the "What's New" page to see if there are any important changes since your current version.

Please check the Troubleshooting page if you have any issues. A lot of common problems are covered there. In particular, you should find an IT person to help if you have difficulty with a networked installation.

Please remember that this download is optional and separate from the process of updating your vehicle data from the DMV.
